

Forgive Us Our Debts

Music by Brian Gier

Lyrics by Dave Inglis

Copyright © 2008

Your dreams can't take wing when they're weighed down by the stones.
You can't raise your sights with a heavy head, no.
We're a 501c3; we're supposed to be tax free;
Yet every month that interest payment takes from us a fee.
It's time to break free of the bonds that have held us.
Lay down the weight, run the race set before us.

Forgive us our debts; let's move forward in new ways.
This is our capital opportunity.
With no limitations we'll have newfound energy.
We can say "Yes!" to new possibilities!

This is our church; it's a place that we treasure.
The faith that is nurtured here can grow without measure.
We've been through hard times and much has been crushing,
But we can move on, chase the new sun that's rising.

Forgive us our debts; let's retire the mortgage.
This is the time to change our focus.
Forgive us our debts; put the burden behind us.
Free to imagine what we can accomplish.

Forgive us our debts; let's move forward in new ways.
This is our capital opportunity.
With no limitations we'll have newfound energy.
We can say "Yes!" to new possibilities!